Art Appreciation Topic Of Yamparika Club Talks

"Better Art for Better Living" was the program keynote for the January meeting of the Yamparika Club held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Joe Shipman. Mrs. Kenneth Lawrence assisted with the hostess duties.

The guests were served refreshments of cake and coffee from a beautifully appointed table. Mrs. Frank Long, club president, poured.

During the business session Mrs. Emory Rhoads, Jr., chairman of the Civic Committee, reported that over $400 was raised by means of the Yamparika Club Christmas project.

Mrs. J. M. Napier, Jr., was director of the program on art and its appreciation. In her introductory talk Mrs. Napier said, "Art is and always has been an indispensable need of humanity. It is implanted in the soul of the child, as in that of primitive man. Our knowledge of the past, of civilizations that have flourished and disappeared, is derived almost entirely from the relics of their art. Above all, art brings pure pleasure into the humblest life." Concluding her talk Mrs. Napier introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Emory Hollar.

The topic of Mrs. Hollar's very interesting talk was "Growth in Art Appreciation." She began by saying, "Art is not a sermon and the artist is not a preacher. Art accomplishes by indirection."

She continued, in part, "If you must accept art, it must be a part of your daily lives and the daily life of every man. Art is no respect of persons; it is shared by gentle and simple, learned and unlearned, and is a language understood by all. Art has always shown itself faithful to nature, and has marched with social progress. The study of art possesses this great and peculiar charm—that it is absolutely unconnected with the struggles and contests of ordinary life. The growth of art appreciation in our own lives is seen on every hand—in our home life, in our yards and in the training of our youth."

Concluding her speech Mrs. Hollar said, "A great deal of the joy of life consists in doing perfectly, or at least to the best of one's ability, everything which is attempted. The smallest thing, well done, becomes artistic."

Altruism Program Features Talks On Old South

The Altruism Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Hub Colley, Jr., with Mrs. Gene Roberts serving as hostess.

After a lovely refreshment plate was served, Mrs. B. H. Serold presided over a short business session. The yearbook committee for the next year was announced. Mrs. David Nowlin will be chairman of the group, and the other members will be Mesdames Jack Frost, Jack Eure, Claude Sharp, Lloyd Putman and Q. C. Rogers, Jr.

Mrs. Jimmy Carrington was chairman of the interesting program on the Old South entitled, "A Niche in History." In her talk, "No Worries Here," Mrs. Carrington depicted the charm of New Orleans—stressing the carefree spirit of the people and their pride in the city. She described the amusements, eating places, customs and habits of the people of New Orleans. She said, "And every person in New Orleans saves his money all year—not to go to California, Texas or Florida in the summer, but for the biggest event in their lives—for Mardi Gras."

"Of Old Forgotten Things" was the title of a talk on old homes in the South by Mrs. Sterling Greenwood. In particular she took the members on an imaginary visit to Stanton Hall in Natchez, Miss. The beauty and grandeur of the famous old home were described in detail, and members, at the conclusion of the program, felt that they had spent a delightful afternoon in the Old South.

30 Students Are To Trade Lives
Manitowoc, Wis., Jan. 10. (AP)—Thirty high school youngsters from this Lake Michigan city and 30 from Macon, Ga., are going to trade lives for several weeks.

Supt. Angus B. Rothwell of Manitowoc public schools announced yesterday a plan by which North and South pupils will swap high schools and homes. Full details have yet to be worked out between Rothwell and Dr. Mark Smith, superintendent of schools in Macon.

The only cost to the students will be transportation. Housing and food will be provided at each end by the family adopting a "new" son or daughter.

Rothwell said he believed Manitowoc transfers "will obtain a first hand view of the Southern Negro problem and of the agriculture and business of that area. They also will study the method by which civil war is taught in southern schools."

There are no Negro families residing in Manitowoc, a city of 27,000. And no Negroes attend Lanier Senior High School at Macon, from where the Southern pupils will be transplanted.

Rothwell said only 11th and 12th grade pupils will be considered.

Fire Roars Through Haskell Business Area
Haskell, Jan. 10. (AP)—Fire fanned by slight winds, spread rapidly through four buildings on the square in this county seat town this morning.

The Haskell Volunteer Fire Department was still battling the blaze after it had been raging for over an hour. It started in a cotton broker's office about 7 a. m.

According to firemen, the blaze begun from an explosion when a small heating stove was lighted in the office of Cotton Broker Ralph Raney.

In flames within an hour were the Jones Dry Goods store, the offices of an optometrist and the Haskell American Red Cross, a photograph studio and a dress shop. The fire still threatened surrounding buildings.

All of the buildings are located on the northeast corner of the courthouse square. Haskell has a population of about 3,500 persons.

Combining the advantages of the convertible with those of the conventional sedan is Studebaker's newest body style for 1952—the "Starliner," a five-passenger, hardtop convertible. The new model, which typifies the striking new design and appointments of the company's entire series of new models, is offered in both the Champion and Commander lines, and is available in eleven different two-tone color combinations. Upholstery trim includes two different nylon options as standard, and two leather options as extra-cost choices. Chrome wheel discs as shown are optional at extra cost.

New Studebaker Is on Display

Studebaker's 1952 passenger cars, redesigned both outside and inside in keeping with the company's reputation for "styled ahead" leadership, are now being displayed by Vivian-Dixon Motors, local Studebaker dealer.

Added to the wide range of Studebaker body styles this year is the new "Starliner," a five-passenger, hardtop convertible. It is available in both the Champion and Commander lines in 11 different two-tone color combinations and two standard upholstery options. Styled for smartness and unlimited visibility, the new model combines the advantages of the convertible with those of the steel-topped sedan. The "Starliner" typifies the striking new design and appointments of the company's entire series of new models.

"Externally, the '52 Studebakers reveal entirely new front-end treatment and substantial restyling in the rear," says Mr. Vivian. "All models look much longer and wider than before. Hoods are longer and lower, with new emblems and ornaments. Grilles embody wrap-around styling and stand out as the most distinctive front-end features of the new models. The massive wrap-around bumpers are equipped with four vertical guards; two, located under the headlamps, to protect the car from the customary day-to-day bumps, and two smaller guards to protect the license plate from damage. Headlamp rims are of new design and the parking lights, also new, are larger."

The most significant changes in the rear are found in the tail lights and trunk lid handles. The tail lights, which appear to be integral parts of the rear fenders rather than "added-on" assemblies, give the effect of extending the sweep of the fenders and thus a corresponding increase in body length. Their design, however, does not sacrifice any of the increased area of illumination which proved so popular on the '51 models. Trunk lid handles incorporate new styling on all but the lowest price Champion model.

Surer, yet softer and easier brake action has been achieved by changes in the brake pedal linkage and the adoption of floating rear shoes in all brakes. Both front and rear shoes in all brakes are now completely self-adjusting.

Other innovations include instrument panel push-button starting on all models equipped with automatic drive, a new type of starter for the Commander which is held in positive engagement until the engine is fully operating, moisture-proof ignition systems, and a boost in the generator output to 45 amperes on both the Champion and Commander.

CAMPAIGN PLANNED
Austin, Jan. 10. (AP)—An intensive campaign for publicity and money to fight Texas' tideland battle is planned for February. Guy C. Jackson of Anahuac, chairman of the statewide tidelands committee, said newspaper advertisements and stories, radio broadcasts, magazines and other means will be used to publicize the issue during the month designated as "tidelands defense month." Funds will also be sought to carry on a national campaign for congressional action quit-claiming the tidelands to the states.

CONTRACTS AWARDED
Rockdale, Jan. 10. (AP)—The Aluminum Company of America (ALCOA) has announced award of contracts to three Texas firms for preliminary work on the $80 million Rockdale plant. Wyatt C. Hedrick of Houston was chosen to prepare architectural plans for a one-story administration building. The Layne-Texas Company of Houston and Dallas will make tests for a plant water supply. Morgan White Company of Killean was awarded a contract to handle plumbing in several buildings at the plant site.

Anti-Inflation Plan Is Rapped

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—President Truman's call for a stronger anti-inflation law brought an "enforce the one you've got" retort from Republicans today. But Senator Moody (D-Mich.) termed the present measure "entirely inadequate."

Moody told a reporter Mr. Truman was "absolutely correct" in saying in his State of the Union message yesterday that "our stabilization law was shot full of holes" by Congress at the last session.

Moody and other members of the Senate banking committee arranged to talk the situation over today, but Republicans in the group said in advance of the session that they see no need for any major changes in the law.

Senator Capehart of Indiana, senior Republican on the committee, said:

"As for the President's contention that we need a stronger controls law, I would say to him: 'enforce the one you've got and you'll find it provides full and complete power to curb inflation."

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio), another member of the committee, also declared the President has all the authority needed to control prices and wages "if he only would use to the full extent the good law Congress gave him."

Clarence Grimes Asks Re-Election

The Percy Williams Home for Actors, Pine Acres, is at East Islip, Long Island, N. Y. It was founded in 1923.

NCAA To Study TV Control, Sport De-Emphasis

Group Eyes Report of Presidents

Cincinnati, Jan. 10. (AP)—Michigan State's Dr. John Hannah drops in for a call today, the television committee makes its report and things start popping at the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention.

Notre Dame and Pennsylvania are girded for a fight against controlled television of college football games but admit it's a hopeless cause.

"I am convinced the committee and convention will vote for a restricted program," said Ed (Moose) Krause, Notre Dame athletic director, "but we stand against controls."

"Our counsel tells us the NCAA plan is in violation of anti-trust laws. We can't vote for something against the law."

"We have an open mind. We aren't sure the year's survey proves TV is damaging to attendance. We'd like to see a year of uncontrolled television just to see whether it hurts."

Notre Dame, teamed with Pennsylvania, fought for unrestricted television a year ago and lost to an overwhelming vote for a year's moratorium. The controls reportedly cost the South Bend institution $600,000 in TV receipts.

The issue will be discussed openly at an afternoon round table meeting.

Of equal interest—as this giant convention nears a showdown stage—is the visit of Dr. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, and Dr. Arthur Adams, president of the American Council of Education.

Those two gentlemen, as spearheads of a special committee of college presidents, threw a bombshell into college athletics last week-end in Washington by proposing a drastic deemphasis program.

They called for abolishment of bowl games, athletic scholarships and out-of-season practices; end of freshmen use in varsity contests and stabilization of coaches' salaries to conform with those of other faculty members.

At the same time they warned they might enforce these measures with a threat of loss of accreditation—the most potent weapon yet unsheathed for the control of sports.

Hannah and Adams had a morning conference scheduled with the NCAA's executive council at which time it was hoped the two agencies might agree on a single plan.

NCAA officials, cautiously guarded against open comment, complained privately that the presidents' proposals are entirely too drastic and could not be pushed through the convention.

Brown Team Gets Nod in Pro Tilt

Los Angeles, Jan. 10. (AP)—It's nothing new for Paul Brown, but his American Conference all-star team has been installed as a 6½-point favorite over the Nationals in Saturday's Pro-Bowl game.

The people who make the odds figure the Cleveland coach has the stronger line and therefore is in a position to swing the balance to the Americans in a close game.

Jumbo Joe Stydahar, who bosses the Los Angeles Rams, pro champions of 1951, plans to offset whatever line edge Brown has by using his Los Angeles backs, Bob Waterfield, Tank Younger and Dan Towler, plus the Chicago Bear blocking back, John Dotley.

"If those guys can't dent Brown's line," observed Stydahar, "nobody can."

FIVE PERSONS CHARGED

Warsaw, Poland, Jan. 10. (AP)—Five more persons charged with spying for the U. S. go on trial today before the Warsaw Regional Military Court. All are accused of illegally crossing the frontier after being enlisted for espionage by U. S. spying centers in Berlin.

Ted Williams Is Recalled By Marines

Boston, Jan. 10. (AP)—Ted Williams, baseball's top salaried slugger, has been recalled by the U. S. Marines and, if physically fit, probably will be lost to the Boston Red Sox until he returned the comparative old age of 35.

That $100,000-plus performer is one of several hundred former Marine flyers being called back as replacements for Korean veterans due active service releases.

"If Uncle Sam wants me, I'm ready. I'm not any different than the next fellow," Williams phoned General Manager Joe Cronin.

"But I'll go through all of the spring training and I'll stay with the club and wait further orders," Williams added.

But Williams' chances of passing the Marines' strict physical tests for its flyers are considered dubious in that service's local circles.

Sukeforth Quits Dodger Position

Brooklyn, Jan. 10. (AP)—Clyde Sukeforth was out of a job as coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers today, and Billy Herman was appointed in his place, but Sukeforth said there was nothing to reports there were strained relations between him and Manager Charlie Dressen.

Sukeforth, in the Dodger organization 19 years as a catcher, coach and even manager for several days on occasion, resigned suddenly yesterday, the Brooklyn management announced.

Sukeforth was in charge of the Dodger bullpen last fall when Dressen called for a relief pitcher in the ninth inning to throw to Bobby Thomson of the New York Giants in the memorable final playoff game for the National League pennant. He told Dressen Ralph Branca was "ready," and Thomson hit his game-winning homer on Branca's second pitch.

At Waldoboro, Maine, Sukeforth admitted he told Dressen that Branca was ready to pitch.

However, said Sukeforth, this incident "absolutely did not" cause any tension between Dressen and himself.

Sukeforth wouldn't say why he was leaving the Dodgers, but offered:

"I have several irons in the fire and hope to get another job."

Two Texas University Stars In Track Are Close Friends

Austin, Jan. 10. (AP)—Dean Smith and Charles Thomas, star University of Texas sprinters, are mighty close. Each has run 100 yards in 9.6; Thomas once did 9.5; Smith recently set a Sugar Bowl record of 10.3 for the 100 meters.

Mostly it's a ding-dong battle when they run against each other—one is as likely to win as the other.

But they're even closer than that.

A short time ago Mr. and Mrs. Smith became parents of a husky son. They had a name all picked out—Charles Thomas Smith.

Sergeant Faces Assault Charges at Austin

Austin, Jan. 10. (AP)—Sgt. Charles Meighen was in Travis County jail today under $20,000 bond to await examining trial on charges of assault with intent to rape an Air Force pilot's wife.

The bond was set yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Robert need, Jr., after Meighen was turned over to civil authorities by the Air Force.

The assault occurred Christmas Day at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio.

Examining trial was scheduled for Jan. 19.

Meighen, whose home is Waynesburg, Pa., had been stationed at San Marcos Air Force Base since last August.

DISAPPEARANCE SOLVED

Alvin, Jan. 10. (AP)—The 1949 disappearance of Insurance Agent Roland P. Sparks of Alvin has been solved. A Miami, Fla., mortician, with evidence brought here, has identified a body found hanging from a Miami tree Dec. 31 as that of Sparks. A Miami coroner returned a verdict of suicide. Papers found on the body indicated Sparks had wandered over much of the country since leaving Alvin.

Wage Board Bans Musial Pay Hike

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—The Salary Stabilization Board, after a personal appearance by baseball's best hitter last year, Stan Musial, gets to work today on a new player salary formula.

Musial flew into town yesterday for a few words with board officials about his salary predicament. He signed a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals last year which would have brought him a reported $85,000—if regulations had allowed it.

But they didn't. Despite his .355 average, best in either league, Stan had to be content with his 1950 salary of about $50,000—highest salary for a Cardinal paid that year.

That's the base year. The salary board ruled that no player may be raised to a point higher than the highest paid man on the club in 1950.

The rule was an inflation curb—the same way the wage board has made rules governing wage increases during the mobilization period.

Salary board officials said flatly today the new rule now being worked out would be an industry-wide, all-club rule. The 16 clubs would have one effective ceiling rather than 16 separate ones.

At this stage no one would predict how the new ceiling or formula might work.

Testimony Is Heard In Guardianship Case

Los Angeles, Jan. 10. (AP)—A jury hearing a guardianship case involving Mrs. Mattie Alice Knight, 44, Ardmore, Okla., oil heiress, has been told she once was tricked into paying $10,000 for narcotics she never received.

The woman's daughter, Mrs. Lou Ann Zellers, Lake Success, N. Y., has asked the jury to sanction a guardian on the ground Mrs. Knight is addicted to alcohol and narcotics.

Mrs. Zellers' lawyer, Donn B. Downen, Jr., told the jury Mrs. Knight once gave a man $5,000 for drugs and received only a package of newspaper cuttings, and a week later she gave the same man another $5,000 "for the real stuff this time" and never saw him again.

Mrs. Knight's lawyer, Robert G. Johnson, said there is no necessity for a guardian, since she is confined in a home for alcoholics. She never has been declared incompetent and is under no legal restraint. She expressed a desire to leave the home for alcoholics and return to Oklahoma and her daughter then filed the petition for a guardian.

Mrs. Knight inherited her money from her father, Sherman Joines, pioneer Oklahoma oil and cattle man.

The Cabinet Room at No. 10 Downing Street is equipped with double doors and the windows have double sashes to balk would-be listeners.

Two Quintets Dropped From Unbeaten List

New York, Jan. 10. (AP)—Syracuse and Mississippi State were knocked out of the unbeaten ranks in college basketball last night, narrowing the list of undefeated major teams to seven.

Syracuse took a 72-49 lacing at the hands of Pitt while Miss. State absorbed a 77-62 whacking from Mississippi. Syracuse had won 6 in a row and State 9.

This leaves Kansas 11-0; Florida 10-0; Seton Hall 10-0; Iowa 9-0; Illinois 9-0; Duquesne 8-0 and St. Bonaventure 8-0 as the seven unbeaten majors.

Syracuse was ranked 14th in this week's Associated Press poll. Louisville, No. 5, beat Xavier of Ohio, 77-67. Oklahoma City, No. 18, trimmed Wichita, 53-46, and Dayton, No. 20, walloped Ohio Univ., 101-71. None of the other teams in the top 20 saw action last night.

Most of the nation's action was in the East. Columbia opened defense of its Ivy League crown with an easy 68-51 conquest of Harvard. In non-league games Yale nicked Brown, 64-59; Cornell took a 60-34 thumping from Colgate; and Pennsylvania routed Delaware, 79-54.

A free throw by Lou Drago in the last 30 seconds gave Bowling Green a 54 to 53 overtime victory over Toledo while Georgia Tech, ahead at the half by 18 points, staved off Auburn's late bid to win, 56-54.

Isbell Interested In Pro Baseball

Waco, Jan. 10. (AP)—Larry Isbell, Baylor's all-America quarterback who also is one of the top baseball players of the Southwest Conference, is undecided whether to take his last athletic eligibility at Baylor or turn professional.

He said today he was waiting for the football draft to see what the pro grid game has to offer but that he actually prefers baseball. "It means more money and a longer life in your sport, he said."

If he can get a commission he will remain in Baylor and graduate, meanwhile playing baseball. He has been in the Air ROTC for two years and under an accelerated program now in effect can do the required work in three years. If he leaves Baylor he is subject to the draft in the armed forces.

Isbell, majoring in business administration, won't graduate until next winter.

Former Bank Officer Is Fined $6,000

Paris, Jan. 10. (AP)—Morris Fleming, former vice-president of the First National Bank of Paris, has been fined a total of $6,000 and given suspended prison sentences totaling six years for misapplication of funds.

Fleming was fined $1,000 and given a one-year term in each of three courts Tuesday by Federal Judge Joe W. Sheehy.

Fleming and three other employees were charged in 1949 with misapplication of $75,000. The others were acquitted last January after Fleming told the court that if a federal law had been violated he was responsible.

About $30,000 of the funds, U. S. Dist. Atty. Warren G. Moore said, had been recovered by the bank. Judge Sheehy said he suspended the prison sentence because of Fleming's ill health.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Probably the last thing in the world you'd expect a 75-year-old man to do is climb up on a horse's back and gallop him around a race track.

But that doesn't apply to William Caywood. That's the first thing he does after reporting to his boss at the Hialeah Race Course most mornings. He sets them down for a fast workout, too.

It was a privilege to meet Bill Caywood, when en route home from Venezuela we dropped off for a day of racing at Tropical Park. The grand old-timer takes you way back there, and bridges the gap with wonderful memories.

As a jockey, Caywood was a contemporary of the one and only Tod Sloan, Danny Maher, Winnie O'Connor, George Odom and Fred Taral. He remembers Max Hirsch, the famous King Ranch trainer, when he was a rider of 60-odd pounds. For three years he was contract rider for Czar Nicholas. He also was under contract to Sam Hildreth, one of the top all-time trainers.

Caywood's appearance in the saddle has occasioned chuckles and snickers from young exercise boys because of his long stirrups and disregard for the so-called acey-deucey style popularized by Eddie Arcaro. But they're only Johnny-Come-Latelys to this very active member of the Old Guard.

CAYWOOD started riding races for a living in 1895 after riding match events at county fairs in his native Iowa. At the time he became a full-fledged jockey he weighed 60 pounds and the additional 50 he has put on through the years wouldn't disqualify him as a rider today. He's naturally small and is spry than most men 25 years his junior.

Caywood's big day as a jockey came in 1897 in New Orleans, when he rode five winners on a six-race program. He carries several frayed newspaper clippings as proof.

Caywood retired from racing several times, but the track lured him back. Last summer, after several years in retirement in California, he came to Chicago and attached himself to Buck Hazzard. His principal job is that of groom, but he volunteered for galloping, and Hazzard let him have his way. He claims he is still a little out of condition, and is slowly working himself back in shape, after which he'll show those young whippersnappers something.

At a time when most men his age consider a walk to the post office for the mail the limit of their daily exercise, Bill Caywood handles yearlings with the exuberance of a youngster.

Report on World Situation Asked

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—The House foreign affairs committee will call on Secretary of State Acheson next week for a full review of the world situation before setting out on a stormy session over foreign aid.

Chairman Richards (D-SC) said the committee wants to question Acheson, among other points, on what Prime Minister Churchill expects in further American assistance.

The issue before the present Congress, Richards told a reporter, is not whether foreign aid should be continued but how much the American public could and would give.

Richards said he approved President Truman's request for continued foreign assistance at high levels. But the chairman said there is a strong sentiment in Congress for keeping this help "in the bounds" that the country can afford. Other lawmakers echoed this view.

St. Louis, Jan. 10. (AP)—Veteran Cesar Brion of Argentina shattered young Wesbury Bascom's victory string last night with a unanimous 10-round decision in a heavyweight feature bout at the Arena.

Except for the first two rounds, it was the South American's fight all the way. Since turning professional, Bascom had won 14 consecutive fights.

Referee Benny Kessler gave the bout to Brion 55-45. Judge Fred Connell had it 53-47 and Judge Howard Hess scored it 52-48.

UMT Plan Under Fire by Snively

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—Dr. Guy E. Snively, executive director, today told the association of American colleges that the universal military training plan can "damn" itself by two of its features.

He described these features as: (1) Requirement of one officer for each two trainees and (2) cost of over $30,000 for each trainee for the six months required training.

Dr. Snively said also the UMT plan "would seem impossible to operate simultaneously with the present successful on-going selective service system."

A special commission on UMT $4 billion to train 800,000 men in the first year.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.), announced yesterday the House armed services committee would begin today a study of the UMT plan.

Dr. Snively made his comment in a report prepared for some 600 delegates attending the association's annual meeting.

He said increased monthly calls by selective service because of the Korean war would "wreak havoc" with college enrollments next fall.

Tanker Reported in Trouble in Pacific

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 10. (AP)—The 623-foot U. S. Tanker Pennsylvania, bucking a fierce Pacific storm off the northern end of Vancouver Island, reported today an ominous crack had appeared down the side of the vessel.

The report came in a message intercepted by the Gordon Head wireless station here.

The Point Grey wireless station later reported the Pennsylvania had a 14-foot-long crack down her port side, into the engine room.

The station said the ship was taking water but pumps could handle it unless the leak became worse.

PUSHER SCHUMAN PLAN

Bonn, Germany, Jan. 10. (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today called on the West German Parliament to vote "yes" to the Schuman plan or abandon all hope for a united and economically strong Europe. He opened a three-day German debate on ratification of the plan which would create a single market of 155 million Europeans for the coal and steel of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

Wacky News Vies With Top Stories to Start New Year

(By The Associated Press)

With presidential election year here and international tensions no lighter, Texas was well into the new year today with the State's usual wacky news crowding some important developments on the national scene.

Texas and Louisiana were feuding again. It's not whooping cranes nor is it pelicans this time. Instead it's something more remunerative—an oil well.

The well is under the bed of the Sabine River on the Louisiana-Texas boundary. Texas says the well's hers because the Texas boundary runs smack into the middle of the Sabine.

Louisiana says it's not because Louisiana's boundary runs to the west bank, Texas side, of the river.

To top it all, the well has not been drilled yet. The Ohio Oil Company plans to start drilling soon on the west bank and angle its drill stem to a point beneath the river.

So far there has been no bloodshed.

In Fort Worth, Charles Batchelor told police he feels worse than ever after a sort of impromptu treatment on his aching chest. Charley was fixing his backyard fence when a man and woman drove up.

He mentioned his aching chest and the woman said she had remarkable healing powers. She massaged his chest and left.

That's when Charley felt so much worse. He told police a wallet containing $369 inside his shirt left, too.

Another Fort Worth man, Cecil Hood, had an experience slightly similar. Hood collected a $90 check for the first month's rent on an apartment. Next day, his renter was gone. So was an electric refrigerator, two rugs and two tables. And the check bounced.

In Houston, the City Council finally conceded that Houston hadn't grown so much as the Chamber of Commerce may have you believe.

Lt. Col. Charles Francis, stationed at Camp Kilmer, N. J., whose wife comes from Houston, wrote that Mrs. Francis had—by mistake—paid a $5 fine on a traffic ticket lost October for an offense allegedly committed while

That was in August, 1950, the colonel said. And he wrote: "A checkup shows that at the time, the car was in my possession in San Antonio. Either there was one gosh awful mistake or Houston has annexed a helluva lot of territory."

The Council voted to remit the five bucks.

And all over the State folks were concerned about getting their cars checked for safety requirements now needed before they can register their autos.

Some State Representatives in Fort Worth hollered that it wasn't their fault that the law was getting things snarled up. Sure, they said, they passed it, but the Department of Public Safety was making it work too much hard-ship.

A motorist having his car checked at Dallas was told he would have to take a parking lot sticker off the windshield to comply with the law. "No windshield stickers," said the inspector.

Many television sets now have "printed circuits" in which wires and other devices are pressed into an insulating material.

Vehicle Inspection Law Is Confusing to All Concerned

The State passed the motor vehicle inspection law and provided official checking stations for the motoring public, but it forgot one small detail—as yet there are no official inspection stickers—in Vernon at any rate.

Harassed garage owners were trying to explain to motorists here Wednesday just where the stickers might be.

"We are doing inspection work on automobiles, especially when an owner knows of a mechanical defect," one garage man stated. "As to when the stickers will arrive—not being a politician, I couldn't say."

The stickers will be made available just as soon as they are delivered here, it was pointed out.

There are six official checking stations in Vernon. They are Bob Hoffman Paint and Body Shop, Vivian-Dixon Motor Company, Leggett Motors, Krebs Motor Company, Campbell Motor Company and Hill Motor Company.

Bob Hoffman estimates that over 500 cars have passed through his place. He anticipates a "real jam" when the stickers arrive and all have to come back for the little emblem.

The other inspection stations are doing "inspection work" on a number of cars and one owner said that there will probably be waiting lines at most places in the next two or three weeks.

Under the law, motorists must have their car inspected and it must pass before a 1952 license will be issued. New license plates must be on all Texas automobiles by April 1.

A shortage of parts—especially for older model cars—is also plaguing inspection station operators.

The law states that all cars must have an emergency brake in good working order. Cables for emergency brakes are about as easy to find as buried treasure, according to the inspection men.

"We have even been to a neighboring city in an attempt to find brake cable," one man said. "There we found them using any kind of cable that will work as a substitute."

It was estimated that only about 50 per cent of the automobiles would pass the inspection test.

Brakes, lights (especially parking lights), windshields and mirrors are among the more frequent parts in violation of the new law, it was reported.

All of the inspection stations have posted a $1,000 bond with the State and must abide by rules defined in the inspection manual or forfeit the bond.

One motorist in particular was disturbed by the new law.

"It's going to cost me more than my old car is worth to get it in shape to pass the test," he explained. "Wonder if the State can pass a law to help me there?"

Million-Dollar Estate Goes to UT

Los Angeles, Jan. 10. (AP)—Most of the million-dollar estate of a California oil developer was left to the University of Texas School of Medicine.

This was disclosed yesterday when the will of Andrew Cyrus McLaughlin, dated Dec. 7, 1951, was filed for probate. McLaughlin, 77, a graduate of the University of Texas, died Sunday.

The will directed that the University of Texas bequest be used for establishment and maintenance of fellowships for the investigation of infection and immunity.

Probe of Alien Property Office Covers I. G. Farben's U. S. Ties

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Wisconsin Sen. Alexander Wiley's surprise gunning for the Department of Justice Alien Property Office under Harold I. Baynton is now aimed at bigger game.

The original target was to take potshots at Democratic administration favorites who got big fees as executives and lawyers for government-held alien properties seized during the war. This is bound to be good lead pigeon shooting for the Republicans, if it scores any hits.

But now Senator Wiley's field of fire is broadening into a complete analysis of the extent to which I. G. Farben, the big German chemical trust, still is tied up with its former American subsidiaries.

They include General Aniline and Film, General Dyestuff and the Schering corporations.

Assets of these three companies are worth around 150 million dollars. Their U. S. properties were seized by the Alien Property Custodian in 1942 and the government still holds them.

Reports recently received by Senator Wiley's office indicate that General Aniline, through its sales agent General Dyestuff, has let contracts for a number of foreign distributors. Key figures in these foreign sales agencies have been identified as former officials of the I. G. Farben chemical trust.

THIS may be pure coincidence. But it has led Senator Wiley's staff to inquire into the extent to which the U. S. government has broken up the German trust's hold over its former American subsidiaries.

Main reason why General Aniline properties in the U. S. have not been sold by the Alien Property Office is that this has been blocked by a lawsuit. Plaintiff in the case is a Swiss holding company known for short as Interhandel corporation.

At the start of the war Interhandel claims it owned majority stock control of General Aniline and its affiliated companies. General Aniline was organized as an American corporation, however, and its principal officers were Germans who had become naturalized American citizens.

It is the contention of the U. S. government that Interhandel was in reality a dummy corporation which was in turn owned by I. G. Farben. The Swiss holding company, it is claimed, was set up to conceal German ownership and so prevent seizure of I. G. Farben properties in the U. S. under the alien property laws.

If Swiss ownership can be proved in court, then the American government's vesting of General Aniline would be knocked out.

If the investigation uncovers anything more than who has been riding on the alien property "grave train," as the Senate calls it, a big staff of lawyers and expert accountants will have to dig deep in corporation records caves for many months. In an election year, the public may not be too interested.

There is one other factor which may explain a lot. When the resolution to end the state of war with Germany was before the U. S. Senate last October, Senator Wiley proposed an amendment.

It would have authorized the daughters of Ernest Harbach to bring suit against the U. S. government for recovery of shares in General Dyestuff, which they formerly owned but later sold to the Alien Property Office, through General Aniline.

Ernest Harbach was for many years president of General Dyestuff and an I. G. Farben manager in the United States. Senator Wiley declares his amendment was merely a matter of service to enable a native-born American citizen to establish his rights in court. But the Senate refused to pass the Wiley amendment. Senator Wiley's interest in investigating the Alien Property Office began at that time.

Farm Leaders Puzzled Over Statement Made by Truman

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—Farm leaders puzzled today over a statement by President Truman that a sliding scale in the price support law should not be allowed to penalize farmers who increase production for defense needs.

They pointed out such a system is not being used now. Consequently, they said they saw no danger to the farmer unless the administration, which has been against the sliding scale, changes its policies.

Some saw in the comment, made in the President's state of the union message today, an indication the controversial issue may figure in this year's political campaigns.

Mr. Truman's reference to the scale was in connection with an appeal for a stronger farm support system.

Present farm law sets up maximum and minimum levels at which the department may support farm prices. For all crops and products, the maximum is 90 per cent of parity, except in case of national emergency. Then it may be set higher if greater incentives to production are deemed necessary.

For most major crops, the minimum support level is 75 per cent of parity. (Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products). For a few products, the minimum is 60 per cent and for others the support level may be dropped to zero.

The so-called sliding scale of minimum supports applies for such crops as cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts. Under it, the minimum rate declines as the size of supplies increases, goes up when supplies drop. It is based upon the theory that supports should be reduced to discourage production when surpluses develop.

But the law does not require the secretary to use the minimum rates of the sliding scale except that he may not go below them. He has authority to set and maintain supports at the maximum level year in and year out regardless of the size of crop supplies.

Because of increasing needs of the defense emergency, Secretary Brannan has set a 90 per cent support rate—the maximum except in case of a national emergency—for virtually all commodities now having the benefit of such government aid.

Some observers said Mr. Truman may have had in mind an oft-advanced argument that the mere existence of the sliding scale provision for minimum supports, whether it is used or not, serves to weaken the farm price program.

Those advancing this argument contend that a secretary of agriculture often is under strong pressure to use the sliding scale regardless of whether he thinks it to be in the best interest of farmers and the nation. Furthermore, if he does not use it, he often is subject to severe criticism from some congressmen for his failure to do so even though the law permits him to support prices at higher rates.

The Truman administration has been on record since 1949 as being opposed to flexible support rates which would exist if the sliding scale minimums were used. In restating objections in his message, Mr. Truman may merely have had in mind a desire to pull the sliding scale out into the open again for attack in this year's political campaigns. The sliding scale was written into law by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress.

Under a controversial farm plan advanced in 1949 by Secretary Brannan but never accepted by Congress, the sliding scale would be abandoned.

Tom Sutherland Will Resign From TCHR

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—Secretary Tom Sutherland of the Texas Council of Human Relations said last night he is going to leave the body.

He gave a dearth of council funds as his reason for leaving but did not say when. Sutherland added that there was no change as yet in his relations with the group.

Sutherland said he would go to New York today and that he was visiting in the East to "carry out plans of long standing."

In Houston, R. E. Smith said Sutherland was leaving of his own volition. Smith said a Saturday Evening Post article written by Sutherland had nothing to do with his coming resignation.

Sutherland wrote an article for this week's Post entitled "Texas Tackles the Race Problem." The story said the State is making progress in ridding itself of prejudice toward migratory Mexican labor. Smith said he was pleased with it.

Rent Control Effective in Three Texas Areas

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—Rent control becomes effective today in the San Marcos, Kingsville, and Hondo areas of Texas.

The Office of Rent Stabilization said highest rents allowable in the San Marcos area will be those charged on March 1, 1951. The maximum rent date for Kingsville will be April 1, 1951, and for Hondo July 1, 1951.

The Hondo area comprises Medina County. The San Marcos area is defined as Caldwell, Comal, Guadalupe and Hayes counties.

The Kingsville area covers Precincts 1, 2, and 3 in Kleberg County.

NSLI Payment Average Figured

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—Payments averaging about $60 will go out this year to holders of National Service Life Insurance policies.

The Veterans Administration announced yesterday it will start dividing a 200 million dollar dividend in March. This will be the first regular dividend for veterans and servicemen, the VA having paid two special dividends in the past four years.

The VA said it is mailing out a special form which will give a policy holder the choice of receiving cash or put the dividend up as a deposit at 3 per cent interest. The deposit would be insurance against possible lapse of a policy or as advance payment on premiums.

The VA emphasized that the returned forms should include the full name and address of the policyholder along with his policy number.

Payments will be made after the anniversary date of each policy covering the previous 12 months. The VA said payment, in most instances, will be based on the 1951 rate of 50 cents for each $1,000 of insurance was in force. Eligibility will be based on paid premiums on a policy for any three or more months between the 1951 and 1952 dates.

Texas Chemical and Metal Plants Planning Expansion

Houston, Jan. 10. (AP)—A billion-dollar expansion program in the chemical and primary metals plants of Texas and Louisiana is underway or planned, the South Texas National Bank of Houston reported today.

The bank released results of a survey it conducted and said $1.119,607,268 is in Texas. It said 75 per cent, or $845,368,261 is concentrated in the Gulf Coast petrochemical region.

Total cost of the program was pegged at $1,375,775,076. Expansion involving refineries and gasoline plants carried a price tag of $239,357,671.

The bank said most of the cost of the program was figured from DPA certificates of necessity providing for five-year fast write-offs on portions of the facilities ranging up to 100 per cent for production of critically-short materials.

Biggest proposed expansion is by the Carbide & Carbon Chemicals Division of Union Carbide and Carbon Corp. It filed seven applications with the Defense Production Administration, proposing six facilities at Texas City costing $60,285,000 and the seventh applying for a $73,663,000 certificate for a facility in "Texas."

The company has made no announcement as to the site of this facility, but it is believed it will be between Texas City and Corpus Christi.

Dow Chemical at Freeport is another that plans a tremendous expansion, amounting to some $78,745,530.

Phillips Chemical Company plans to build a $38,260,000 plant on the Houston ship channel. The expanded plants of the two states produce a variety of products, ranging from rice oil to aluminum, aviation gasoline to cold rubber.

Expansions in Louisiana include the American Petrochemical Corporation plant at Lake Charles $20 million, the Division Chemical Corporation of Lake Charles $5,459,750, the Mathieson Chemical Corporation of Lake Charles $2,266,891, the Southern Alkali Company, Lake Charles, $10,080,000, and the United Carbon Company, Lake Charles, $2,290,000.

No Agreement on Wage Issue Seen

Mexico City, Jan. 10. (AP)—United States and Mexican farm leaders disagree on a Mexican proposal for uniform farm wages in all parts of the U. S. but are in accord on another subject.

Both the Mexican National Association of Farmers and the American Farm Bureau Federation representatives agreed a migrant labor agreement with less red tape should be sought.

But the Mexican proposal for the same farm wages throughout the U. S. met quick objection from U. S. farmers. They said it would upset wage scales and raise harvest wages in some areas.

The Mexican spokesman also proposed changes in piece work payment for cotton pickers, fruit harvesters and similar workers. He is one of the men who will deal with forthcoming negotiations for a new bracero agreement, and asked that piece work be done only "on crops in normal condition."

He complained of low daily earnings of workers who pick cotton where few bolls are on the stalks. United States action was reserved. George Wilson of the California Farm Bureau Federation said it would be difficult to decide when a crop is "normal."

The Mexican official, in the informal talks, pointed out that Texas pays $2 per hundred pounds for cotton picking while California pays $3.

The Farm Bureau men are in Mexico to talk with their opposite numbers in the Mexican National Association of Farmers. While here they have talked to the Mexican officials who will help negotiate the new agreement replacing the present accord which expires Feb. 11.

Key Solons See No Tax Increase

Washington, Jan. 10. (AP)—Key congressional leaders agreed today there will be no general federal tax increases this year—even if President Truman asks them.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) put the Senate Republican policy committee unanimously on record against any more tax boosts yesterday.

"We decided that we should take a position against any further increase in taxes in 1952," Taft told reporters. He said Republicans also would fight to slash government spending.

Taft said federal, state and local taxes now take "over 30 per cent of the national income" and that is about the limit even in an emergency.

Earlier yesterday House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) told newsmen he "doubts" Congress will pass any tax increase this election year.

Senate Majority Leader McFarland (D-Ariz) had said about the same thing earlier.

And the two chairmen of the tax-writing committees, Sen. George (D-Ga) and Rep. Dougherty (D-NC), have turned thumbs down non federal tax boosts at this session, unless some unforeseen emergency develops.

President Truman asked a $10 billion tax increase last session and Congress finally reduced this to less than $5.7 billion.

Transit Strike Hits Baltimore

Baltimore, Jan. 10. (AP)—The public transportation system of Baltimore braked to a halt early today as 3,200 employees of the Baltimore Transit Co. went out on strike.

Pickets started marching in a cold, steady rain at 4 a. m. before all BTC terminals.

The strike against a transportation system that hauls 375,000 passengers daily began despite frantic, last-minute efforts by mediators and public officials.

City officials got ready for a record flow of private cars into the city and kept their fingers crossed in hope that the resulting traffic snarl wouldn't get out of hand.

Police Commissioner Beverly Ober appealed to the public for co-operation, asking drivers to form car pools to the greatest possible extent, to use parking lots and garages to the maximum, and to leave their cars at home and walk if it was possible.

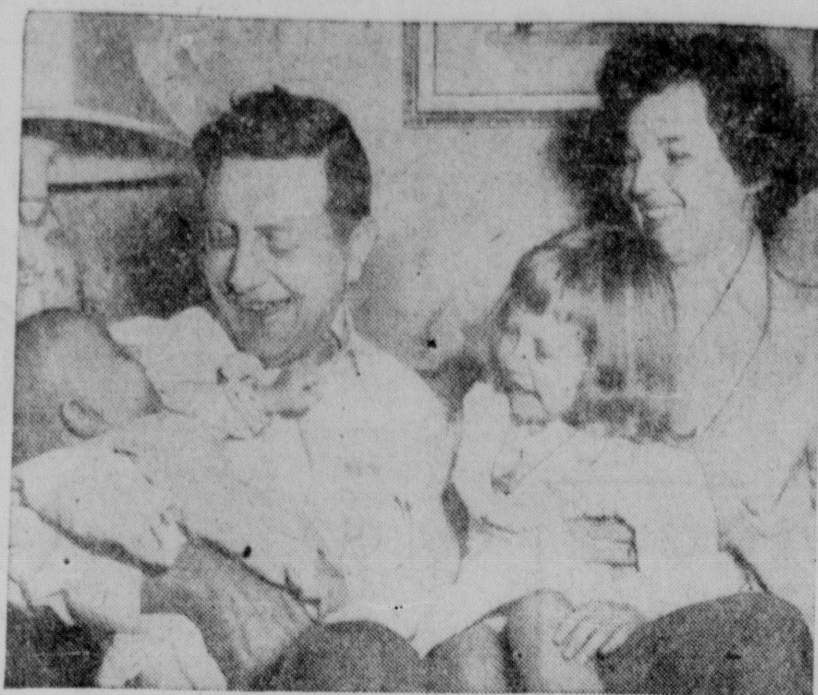

Parking restrictions on downtown streets were called off except on designated arteries.

The last-minute efforts to avert the strike resulted in a company offer of a seven-cent increase in hourly pay rates. Its best previous offer was four cents.

The union turned down the offer because the seven-cent raise, like the four-cent proposal, was made only on condition that the company would get relief in the form of increased fares.

Clayton G. Perry, president of the local union, said no offer made on such a contingent basis would be acceptable.

The union originally demanded a 24-cent raise and has not receded from that demand, although it did drop its bid for other benefits it had insisted upon at the be-

Johnson's Fate in Hands of Parole Board

Dallas, Jan. 10. (AP)—Hillbilly Musician Robert L. Johnson's last chance to escape the electric chair is with the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Johnson yesterday was sentenced to die in the electric chair Feb. 11 for the fatal shooting of Rookie Policeman Johnny Sides, Dallas.

The slender fiddle player spoke about 10 minutes after Dist. Judge Robert Hall asked him if he had anything to say.

Johnson said his trial had been a "kangaroo affair" and his court-appointed attorney had been inadequate.

Sides was shot on a Dallas street when he stopped a car that had driven through a red light signal. He died a few days later.

A criminal district court jury in Brownwood found him guilty of murder after deliberating ten minutes last March.

ginning of negotiations five weeks ago.

Base pay for bus, trolley and street car operators is now $163 an hour.

Governor McKelkin also entered the picture last night, after the strike call had been issued by the union executive board, with appeals to President Truman, AFL President William F. Green, and to Perry to head off the walk-out.

Perry declared the union was prepared for a long strike.

Spokesmen for the company said no effort would be made to operate any vehicles while the strike is in effect.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.....

PRESIDENT TRUMAN PULLS HIS PUNCHES SLIGHTLY

The President's message to Congress on the state of the Union, delivered Tuesday, was the tamest one he has delivered since coming into office. He did not retreat from any of the demands of the past along lines of social security and civil rights. He is still for what he calls the "fair deal" for all Americans, which includes national health insurance, housing financed at the expense of the taxpayers, Federal aid to education, stronger farm price supports and removal by force of law of all forms of segregation on racial grounds.

But he did not support these demands with a fighting appeal for immediate enactment by Congress. He mentioned them and passed to a discussion of issues less likely to provoke bitter controversy at the beginning of this important political year.

As was to be expected the major emphasis was on the international situation and the need to continue our rearmament program. To meet this need he declared there must be greater sacrifices on the part of the American people and higher taxes. He did not predict the time when he believes there may be a slackening of the demands on the American taxpayer. Specific figures will come in later messages.

Maybe it was not significant but no mention of General Dwight D. Eisenhower by name was contained in the message. This is in contrast with previous praise of the General as the man specially qualified to direct the creation of the North Atlantic defense. Maybe this was oversight or it could be that the recent announcement by General Eisenhower that he is a Republican and will accept the nomination for President if it is offered, had some bearing on this point.

It is clear that President Truman is thinking about this year's election.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES UNIONS ARE RESPONSIBLE

The Supreme Court has ruled that a labor union may be held responsible for the effects of its acts and must pay damages the same as any other legal entity. That interesting and highly important statement became a fact Monday when the verdict of a Federal District Court awarding $750,000 in damages to the Juneau Spruce Company's business in Juneau, Alaska, against the International Longshoremen's Union, was affirmed by unanimous decision.

The last fact is rather noteworthy within itself. For some years we have become accustomed to divided opinions among Supreme Court justices. Many of them have been by margins of only one vote, and some cases have been decided actually by less than a majority. This comes about when justices disqualify themselves from participating in particular cases.

But this time all nine justices agreed that an employer is entitled to collect damages when his business is injured by illegal acts of a labor union. This provision is in the much discussed Taft-Hartley Act. Prior to its adoption almost any sort of sabotage could be committed and it was not a violation of law so long as the acts were committed by members of a trade union.

What happened in the Alaska case is that the Longshoremen's Union, headed by the notorious Harry Bridges, started picketing the plant of the Juneau Spruce Company during a jurisdictional dispute with another union over which should load lumber onto barges. The Court held that the Longshoremen were not entitled to interfere in the operations and the Company was entitled to damages.

If one corporation should injure the business of another through illegal acts there would be no question of the right of the injured party to collect damages. But it is something new for Federal courts to compel a labor union to pay damages for its illegal acts. Maybe it isn't a crime to own and operate a business, after all.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Samia Arrives in Texas and Poses for News Reporters

Dallas, Jan. 10. (P)—Samia Gamal, the Egyptian dancer of copper tresses, cocked her hands like six-shooters and made like a Texan when she landed in her husband's homeland today.

"First thing I do is go shopping for some—what do you call them?" she asked.

"Cowboy clothes?" a reporter helped.

"Yes. And boots — cowboy boots."

Samia and her bridegroom—Playboy Sheppard King III, a Texas oil heir who met her in Paris and wooed her under an Egyptian moon—arrived at the Dallas airport at 4:45 a. m. (CST).

They got a Texas welcome—a la Sheppard King the playboy—even at 4:45 a. m.: An accordion player and three couples wielding highball glasses.

The accordion player—name of Gus Deweedt—played an Egyptian hootchi-kootchie dance when Samia tossed back her copper hair, hugged her new $10,000 mink coat (gift of her husband) around her and strode down the gangplank of the airliner.

"Just who are these people?" the player asked a reporter. "I'm just the entertainer at the Cipango Club, and those people were there and hired me to come along."

King is throwing a big champagne "blowout" at the club tonight.

Young Sheppard (he's a boyish-looking 27) hasn't been in Texas since he sped his black Cadillac from Houston to Juarez, Mexico, to get a quickie divorce from his Texas wife, high-tailed it up to Dallas and then abandoned his car to take a plane to fly to Egypt and Samia.

Sheppard's mother, a socially prominent Houston widow, isn't coming up to greet her son and he isn't going down there. He and his bride will stay with his 81-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Sheppard King, in Dallas for the four days they will be in Texas.

"My sister, Patricia, is coming up tomorrow," King said.

The accordion player swung into "The Eyes of Texas" and Samia donned a cowboy hat a photographer had grabbed from the lobby newsstand.

"Here's my ugly man," she declared, and grabbed King for the picture.

She caught on quickly about cooking her hands like six-shooters and pointing her forefingers at her husband. Then she grinned and patted his cheek after the flashbulb went off.

One of the self-appointed reception committee—Dallas friends of King—thrust a highball glass in her hand.

"He has told me about Texas. About how wonderful the people are," she said. "And I think he's right—oh, I don't know how to say it."

King wasn't doing much talking. "We'll just rest and party," he said. "Samia has to be in Miami by the 15th for a night club engagement opening on the 18th, and we'll be in Texas just four days."

Frank Austin, the butler who has been in the King family 31 years, herded up the luggage and piled it in the trunk and back seat of the same black Cadillac in which King had sped across Texas. There was so much luggage Samia and Sheppard piled into the front seat with the butler, who was driving, and rode away to grandmother's.

Dr. Logan's Wife By Diana Gaines

THE STORY: Jennet Logan meets Peter Surinoff at a party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Pelletier. There she is awakened to the realization that her own life, as mate of Dr. Logan, older than herself and in ill health, has been empty. On the way home, she tells her husband that she is going to take a volunteer nurse's side job at Angel's hospital, where Peter is doing research in atomic medicine. The next day she goes to the hospital, and since Dr. Logan is ill, she calls on Dr. Pelletier to deliver some papers from her husband. There she meets Peter again and Peter asks her to see his lab. She enters the room and Peter shows her the work he is doing with animals to discover treatment for atomic burns.

VIII
THE room to which he showed her was anything but the jungle of rigged glass and flame and darkly bubbling liquid that she had imagined. It was a simple little study lab no bigger than a galley and not nearly as ship-shape. Two long counters ran the length of it and on them stood a few pieces of apparatus, 50 or more little bottles, and instruments not of torture but of measurement. Metal stools fitted under the counters as did two large galvanized trash cans which were marked up with red crayon, and an enameled garbage can. A pile of laundry had been flung in a corner. The linoleum floor was stained, and a cozy pair of window-dressers' slippers lay on the window sill.
Peter Surinoff spoke, "It's not as messy as it looks. You see, we have to be very careful about disposing of things, and when you have a small space to work in and you can't throw anything away, you get a little crowded after a while. Those gowns there in the corner have to sit for about two weeks. Then I check them again, and if they're nice and quiet they can go to the laundry. These trash cans are marked with the date they were sealed. In two months I'll take another reading with the Geiger counter to see if they're safe for the dump."

One portion of the table counter was blocked off by a chemistry hood. In front of it were several stacked bricks.

"That's where we unpack the shipment, behind that screen," Surinoff explained. "Ever seen lead bricks before? And these walls are lead-lined too. There's an exhaust fan above; don't lean in there, you can see it from here. It's supposed to carry off the radioactive vapors, but I don't use it much because I think it spreads as much as it sucks off." He moved down the counter where there was another fence of bricks, and a mirror behind it, and a long-armed pincer device that held one of the little bottles by the neck. "Here's where I prepare the doses. See how that mirror helps out?"

"What's that?" Jennet asked, pointing to the pincers. "It looks like one of the crane things in a candy machine—the kind that picks out a prize if you steer it right."
"Same principle exactly," he said, pleased, as if she had said something bright. "And you know how you feel like breaking the window and going in with your hands? That's the way I feel with this thing. It's a remote pipette. I don't use it very much. It's supposed to be safer because it keeps the radioactive solution at arm's length. I prefer the syringe. I'm used to it, I guess." He picked up a stray syringe from the opposite counter. It was empty, but he went through the motions of pumping the rubber bulb to show her how exact one could be in controlling its uptake.

THE SCENT REMAINS
London. (AP)—Just the thing to charm the absent boy friend is perfumed writing paper which supposedly retains its scent indefinitely. Developed by a Scottish company, you can "scent" your man with lilies, roses, gardenias or black narcissus. The perfume is sprayed on the paper. Stocks were sold out in two weeks when first placed on the market.
The Gulf of California is among the finest fishing grounds in the world.

RUBBER OUTPUT RISES
Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. (AP)—Government figures released recently show that the Federation produced 51,574 long tons of rubber in October, an increase of 3,976 tons over September's output. Of the October production, 11,558 long tons were exported to the United Kingdom and 4,726 to the United States.

RICE EXPORTS SOAR
Bangkok, Thailand. (AP)—Thailand expects to ship a record-breaking 1,500,000 tons of rice during 1951—more than that exported any year since the war. For the first nine months of this year rice exports reached 1,160,000 tons compared to the previous record of 1,100,000 for the same period last year.

STREAMLINED CORPS
Tokyo. (AP)—The Japanese foreign office is drafting legislation to give this country a streamlined diplomatic corps when she regains international status. The new legislation will provide that ambassadors and ministers may be named from qualified men in government, business and public life. Before the war, only career diplomats could hold these posts.

WATCHING the careful, white-knuckling fingers, she remembered the clumsy handling of table silver last night. And then again, the sure easy touch on the ukulele. A contradictory man, not easily typed. She looked at his face, free to observe it since his eyes were on the syringe, and she wondered that at first sight she could have thought it dull. There was a man's strength in his face, a ruggedness compounded not only of bones and the imperishably firm skin of youth but also—or was she imputing?—of character. The eyes, deeply implanted, were dark gray—soft now as water-wells. The nose was large but fleshy, the mouth full and taut. No, not ugly, and disturbingly, not dull. Perhaps, she reasoned, he was clumsy only when he was shy.

She reached for a syringe in the rack behind the bricks and he grabbed her hand. "Don't touch anything on that table! It's contaminated area!"

SHE drew her hand away as from a fire. "Well, you picked up the syringe!"
"From the other side. That's clean. I haven't checked this side yet for spillage."
"But when you're working, you have to touch things to fix the doses or whatever you fix."
"I wear gloves." His foot depressed the pedal of the garbage can and she saw that it was full of rubber gloves. "That's where they go when I'm through with the job, and they stay there till they're ready for the trash can. I keep myself entirely covered in case of splashing. You can't get the stuff off your skin, you know. See here." He opened a cabinet in which were shelved surgical gowns and caps and flannel shoe covers. "And this, too." He slipped a cellophane shield over her head.

She grimaced through it, pulled it off, ran her hands over her hair. But she felt considerably humbled. He no longer seemed an untidy schoolboy, nor yet a wizard, but an unsung hero.
